NATIONAL COUNCIL OF THE ARTS, SCIENCES AND PROFESSIONS

The California Committee on Un-American Activities in 1949 cited the NATIONAL COUNCIL OF ARTS, SCIENCES AND PROFESSIONS as one of the most important Communist front organizations in the country.

The March 25, 1952, issue of the "Daily Worker" reported that RUDOLF CARNAP was one of the endorsers of an "Appeal for Peace" which was addressed to former President TRUMAN and members of Congress by the NATIONAL COUNCIL OF THE ARTS, SCIENCES AND PROFESSIONS.

The March 10, 1952, issue of the "Daily Worker" on page 3 contained a statement sponsored by the NATIONAL COUNCIL OF THE ARTS, SCIENCES AND PROFESSIONS protesting the curbs on lawyers during political trials. One RUDOLF CARNAP was listed as one of the signers of this statement.

The June 20, 1951, issue of the "St. Louis (Missouri) Post-Dispatch" contained an article entitled, "We Join BLACK's Dissent" sponsored by the NATIONAL COUNCIL OF THE ARTS, SCIENCES AND PROFESSIONS and supporting a rehearing in the case of the Communist leaders before the Supreme Court. RUDOLF CARNAP was listed as one of the signers of this statement.

The June 2, 1952, issue of the "Daily Worker" on page 3 contained a resolution sponsored by the NATIONAL COUNCIL OF THE ARTS, SCIENCES AND PROFESSIONS which called for a hearing of TUNISIA's demands in the United Nations. One RUDOLPH CARNAP was listed as endorsing this resolution.

The August 7, 1950, issue of the "Daily Worker" on page 8 reflected that one RUDOLF CARNAP was a signer of a statement proposing negotiations with the USSR sponsored by the NATIONAL COUNCIL OF THE ARTS, SCIENCES AND PROFESSIONS.

In part 12 of the Hearings Before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security which were held June 12, 16, 18, and 23, 1953, was set forth information which indicated that RUDOLF CARNAP was a sponsor of the Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace which was held in New York City March 25 to 27, 1949, under the auspices of the NATIONAL COUNCIL OF THE ARTS, SCIENCES AND PROFESSIONS.

67D> [REDACTED] another United States Government agency, advised on May 9, 1951, of an open letter dated February 28, 1951, addressed to President HARRY S. TRUMAN by the "University of Chicago, Graduate Committee for Peace." This letter called for the recognition of the "People's Republic of China" and one RUDOLPH CARNAP was listed as one of the signers.

b7D> [redacted] on October 14, 1939, provided the names of some Communist liaison agents in various countries of the world. The name Dr. RUDOLF CARNAP, Pod Homelkou, 146- N. Motol Praag; XVII, was included among this group. No further information concerning this individual or his identity was made available.

The April 24, 1949, issue of the "New York (New York) Times" reported that HOWARD RUSHMORE, a Columnist for the "New York Journal American," when appearing as a witness before the Illinois Seditious Activities Investigating Committee testified that RUDOLF CARNAP was one of the Chicago University faculty members who was also a member of Communist front groups.

INTERVIEWS WITH SUBJECT'S NEIGHBORS AND ASSOCIATES AT PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY

67C- [redacted] Secretary to the Director of the Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton, New Jersey, stated on May 17 and August 3 and 28, 1954, that the subject arrived there in September, 1952, to do two years of independent research on a problem which involved both Philosophy and Mathematics. She stated that he did most of his work at his residence which was a small house on Maxwell Lane owned by the institute on its own property. She stated that his was due to the fact that Professor CARNAP was in poor health the entire two years that he conducted research work there and that he saw very few people around the institute or around the town of Princeton, New Jersey.

67D { [redacted] at the Institute for Advanced Study, on June 10 and August 3, 1954, stated that he knew of the subject in the late 1930's when he was a student at the University of Chicago at Chicago, Illinois, and the subject was a Professor of Philosophy at the same place. He stated from what he saw and heard around the University of Chicago in the 1930's, the subject was highly impractical, eccentric, and very engrossed in his subject which was Philosophy. [redacted] stated that he has seen little or nothing of the subject since the subject came to the Institute for Advanced Study in 1952 as the subject remains largely in his home and sees few people due to his ill health. He stated that he never heard anything indicating that the subject was a Communist sympathizer of any kind either around Chicago, Illinois, or Princeton, New Jersey. [redacted] stated that he has seen the subject's wife, ELIZABETH CARNAP, very seldom around Princeton, New Jersey, and he has heard nothing about her one way or the other.

Dr. JOHN VON NEUMANN, Director of the Electronic Computer Project at the Institute for Advanced Study (who has since the interview become an Atomic Energy Commissioner), on November 30, 1954, stated that he first met the subject personally in the early 1930's in Prague, Czechoslovakia, where both of them were studying or conducting research. He stated that he has seen the subject occasionally around Princeton, New Jersey, and has heard or seen nothing which would indicate that the subject is sympathetic towards Communism or especially interested in Russian matters. He stated that it has always appeared to him that the subject is interested "99% in scholastic matters and has little or no interest in politics of any kind."

[redacted] residing at [redacted] Princeton, New Jersey, which is several hundred feet from the subject's residence, on October 27, 1954, stated that she knew the subject and the subject's wife as close neighbors during 1952 when the subject resided nearby at 5B Maxwell Lane and also the following year ending in August, 1954, while the subject and the subject's wife resided nearby at 4A Maxwell Lane. She stated that the subject's wife [redacted] and she saw both the subject and the subject's wife often as neighbors. She stated that the subject is Prussian by birth and is world-famous both as a Logician and a Mathematician. She stated that due to poor health the subject spent most of his two years at Princeton, New Jersey, from 1952 to 1954 in bed with some kind of spinal trouble. In spite of this handicap the subject worked in bed for long hours every day on the book he is compiling, and about his only outside interest appeared to be Music. [redacted] stated that the subject's wife was employed during most of the years 1953 and 1954 as a Psychologist for the New Jersey State Hospital at nearby Trenton, New Jersey. [redacted] recommended both the subject and his wife very highly as loyal Americans of excellent character and reputation.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

She stated that due to the subject's poor health he and his wife had very few, if any, associates around Princeton, New Jersey.

On November 8, 1954, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] at the Institute for Advanced Study, [REDACTED] stated that, in view of the fact that he was a very close neighbor to the subject and being a Mathematician at the Institute for Advanced Study, he was also closely attached to the subject professionally. He stated he saw the subject once or twice almost every week during the two years the subject resided at Princeton, New Jersey, and the subject was usually confined to his bed with spinal trouble during these visits. He never saw or heard anything which would indicate that the subject or the subject's wife were interested in Communism or Russian matters, and he considered them to be loyal Americans. [REDACTED] stated that the subject's only associates while the subject resided at Princeton, New Jersey, were other Mathematicians at the Institute for Advanced Study and some individual residing at Princeton, New Jersey, who also came from the area in Europe where the subject had formerly lived.

[REDACTED] at Princeton University, and residing at [REDACTED] Princeton, New Jersey, on June 25, 1954, stated that he was personally acquainted with the subject at the University of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois, while they were both on the faculty of that university and the subject's tenure there was being contested. [REDACTED] stated that he was active in assuring the subject permanent tenure at the University of Chicago and knew him there but has never met the subject since he came to Princeton, New Jersey. He stated that the subject has appeared to him always as being "an abstract, highly impractical thinker," but never saw or heard anything which indicated that the subject was a Communist sympathizer or especially interested in Russian matters. [REDACTED] stated that he has always observed the subject to be a loyal American with good character, reputation, and associations.

[REDACTED] Princeton, New Jersey, whose residence is within several hundred feet of the subject's on Maxwell Lane, stated on September 8, 1954, that he has resided in that neighborhood for many years and although the subject resides on the Institute for Advanced Study property at the rear of his property, he has never heard of the subject or the subject's wife.

[REDACTED] Secretary to the Personnel Officer of the New Jersey State Hospital, Trenton, New Jersey, stated on November 9, 1954, that ELIZABETH CARNAP of 5B Maxwell Lane, Princeton, New Jersey, was employed by the hospital as a Psychiatric Social Worker from November 2, 1953, until she resigned April 19, 1954. Her file reflects she was born December 15, 1904, at no stipulated place. She stated that in her contacts with ELIZABETH CARNAP she always found her to be a very conscientious person who appeared to be a loyal American of excellent character and reputation. She knew nothing about Mrs. CARNAP's associates and did not know the subject.

On November 9, 1954, [REDACTED] at the New Jersey State Hospital, stated that he did not know the subject and was so casually acquainted with the subject's wife, Mrs. ELIZABETH CARNAP, that he was hardly qualified to provide any information concerning her.

INTERVIEWS WITH INDIVIDUALS AROUND
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, WHO KNEW THE SUBJECT

b7C [REDACTED] at the University of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois, on September 2, 1954, advised SA [REDACTED] that RUDOLPH CARNAP had been a Professor of Philosophy at that university for many years until he resigned on April 29, 1954, effective as of October 1, 1954, when Dr. CARNAP would assume the position as Professor of Philosophy at the University of California in Los Angeles, California. [REDACTED] advised that he had a limited association with Dr. CARNAP at the University of Chicago and further that the subject was an introvert who was not well known by any persons in the university circles.

[REDACTED] Assistant to [REDACTED] at the University of Chicago, on September 2, 1954, advised SA [REDACTED] that he had only cursory contact with Dr. CARNAP. He described the subject as a reticent individual who had little association with any persons known by [REDACTED]. He stated that Dr. CARNAP appeared to be completely wrapped up in his capacity as Professor at the University of Chicago and very rarely deviated from his study habits.

ADMINISTRATIVE

The following should be noted with regard to subject's associates who are set out in the referenced report as a possible lead for the Chicago Office.

[REDACTED]

Chicago files reflect that during the course of a Bureau investigation, [REDACTED] expressed himself as opposed to the investigation of students applying for atomic energy fellowships as he did not feel this was related to the national security. (Chicago 116-0-3043D)

Bureau letter dated May 15, 1950, advised that [REDACTED] was not to be interviewed before prior Bureau authority.

As there is some question regarding [REDACTED] co-operation, permission is not being sought to interview him in this matter.

[REDACTED]

In view of the numerous references to [REDACTED] that are contained in the Chicago files, it is not deemed appropriate to interview them.

[REDACTED]

The Chicago files contain numerous references under the name [REDACTED], however, there is nothing which can be positively identified with [REDACTED]

Inasmuch as [REDACTED] and apparently closely associated with the subject and the above mentioned individuals, it is not felt that an interview of him would be of sufficient value to overcome the possibility of embarrassment which might result therefrom.
